

CHINA MIND-BODY WELLNESS RETREAT

10-Day Cultural Wellness Journey

A premium retreat for diverse international guests, blending Chinese contemplative traditions, refined art-making, water-town scenery, West Lake ambience, porcelain craft, and relaxed modern hospitality.

10 Days

Balanced practice, culture, and rest

Zhejiang

Water, tea, craft, and slow living

Shanghai

Arrival, transition, and cosmopolitan ease

11 Days / 9 Nights Suggested Travel Pattern

The retreat itself is designed as a 10-day in-China experience, with international flight timing typically creating an 11-day / 9-night guest journey. The final routing should be confirmed after origin city, dates, and airfare are reviewed.

Recommended Flight Gateway

- Preferred arrival: Shanghai Pudong International Airport (PVG)
- Alternative arrival: Hangzhou Xiaoshan International Airport (HGH)
- Recommended departure: Shanghai Pudong (PVG) or Hangzhou (HGH), depending on the confirmed route
- Guests should arrive by afternoon where possible to allow smooth transfer, check-in, and rest

Arrival and Logistics

- Airport greeting and private transfer can be arranged after flight confirmation
- One checked luggage and one carry-on per guest is recommended for easier transfers
- Dietary, mobility, allergy, and wellness notes should be collected before final booking
- Visa or China entry requirements must be checked according to each guest passport

Suggested booking flow: confirm group size, preferred dates, arrival city, room preference, passport nationality, mobility notes, dietary restrictions, and interest level in alcohol-free alternatives.

WHY THIS JOURNEY

China, Experienced Slowly

This retreat is designed for travelers who want more than sightseeing. It offers a cultivated rhythm: quiet mornings, hands-on cultural artistry, graceful excursions, optional rest, and warm human support throughout the journey.

Mind-body rhythm

Begin with Stillness

Seated meditation, breathwork, tea, and gentle reflection create a calm foundation for the days ahead.

Chinese artistry

Make with Your Hands

Calligraphy, ink painting, porcelain making, and porcelain painting turn cultural learning into a tactile memory.

Elegant discovery

Travel with Texture

West Lake ambience, water-town walks, garden stays, local dining, and craft beer tasting add contrast and pleasure.

The tone is restorative, not clinical; cultural, not performative; premium, not rushed.

SIGNATURE
ACTIVITIES

Traditional Culture, Contemporary Comfort

Each activity is designed to feel approachable for international guests while preserving the atmosphere of Chinese aesthetics.

Seated meditation

Breathwork

Calligraphy

Chinese ink painting

Porcelain making

Porcelain painting

Tea moments

Water-town walk

West Lake ambience

Boutique brewery visit

Craft beer tasting

A Premium Retreat Rhythm

Inspired by high-end retreat design, the itinerary balances morning practice, curated cultural immersion, rest windows, and light evening integration. Final routing is confirmed after guest preferences, season, and supplier availability are reviewed.

Day 1

Arrival and Private Check-In

Arrive in Shanghai or Zhejiang. Airport greeting and private transfer can be arranged. Check in, enjoy welcome tea, review personal preferences, and recover quietly from international travel.

Day 2

Meditation and Calligraphy

Begin with breathwork and seated meditation. A calligraphy mentor introduces brush, ink, posture, and rhythm, turning Chinese characters into a meditative practice. Afternoon tea and journaling help guests settle into the retreat pace.

Day 3

West Lake Ambience and Ink Painting

Enjoy a slow scenic walk inspired by West Lake aesthetics. In the studio session, guests learn how ink, water, empty space, and brush pressure create classical Chinese landscape mood.

Days 4-5

Porcelain Making and Painting

Work with clay and porcelain forms, then paint porcelain surfaces with guided motifs. This is designed as a tactile cultural experience rather than a technical class, suitable for first-time guests.

Days 6-7

Water Town and Craft Brewery

Walk through canal lanes, stone bridges, courtyards, and old-town textures. Later, visit a boutique brewery to understand contemporary craft culture in China, with relaxed tasting and non-alcoholic alternatives on request.

Days 8-9

Integration and Elegant Rest

Morning meditation, light movement, personal time, optional cultural deepening, and a closing circle.

Day 10

Departure and Follow-Up

Departure coordination, feedback collection, and support for onward travel questions.

Visits and Experiences

The descriptions below are written for client-facing use. They explain why each visit matters, what guests do on site, and how the day feels.

Day 1

Arrival, Welcome Tea, and Retreat Orientation

Guests are met at the airport or rail station after flight confirmation. The first evening is intentionally soft: check-in, welcome tea, a short orientation, and time to unpack. The team reconfirms dietary needs, walking comfort, and next-day timing.

Meals: welcome tea / light dinner subject to arrival time. Stay: premium hotel or boutique retreat stay.

Day 2

Seated Meditation and Calligraphy

The morning introduces breath, posture, and quiet attention. In the calligraphy session, guests learn the relationship between brush pressure, ink flow, body alignment, and rhythm. The focus is not perfect handwriting; it is entering Chinese culture through movement and presence.

Meals: breakfast, lunch, dinner. Stay: premium hotel or boutique retreat stay.

Day 3

West Lake Ambience and Chinese Ink Painting

A slow scenic excursion introduces the classical mood of water, bridges, gardens, and layered views. The afternoon ink painting workshop translates that atmosphere into brushwork, empty space, tonal gradation, and mountain-water composition.

Meals: breakfast, lunch, dinner. Stay: premium hotel or boutique retreat stay.

Day 4

Porcelain Forms and Clay Practice

Guests visit a porcelain studio or craft space and learn how clay becomes vessel, surface, and memory. The session is designed for first-time makers, with guided forming, object observation, and cultural context around Chinese ceramics.

Meals: breakfast, lunch, dinner. Stay: premium hotel or boutique retreat stay.

Day 5

Porcelain Painting, Tea, and Reflection

Guests paint porcelain using accessible motifs inspired by landscape, floral forms, or personal symbols. The day slows down with tea and journaling, giving everyone time to connect the handmade object with the broader retreat theme.

Meals: breakfast, lunch, dinner. Stay: premium hotel or boutique retreat stay.

Scenery, Craft, and Contemporary Taste

The second half of the program adds contrast: water-town atmosphere, modern craft culture, spacious rest, and a thoughtful close.

Day 6

Water Town Ancient Lanes and Canal Walk

Guests explore a Chinese water-town setting with canals, stone bridges, courtyards, local textures, and small shops. The visit is paced for observation and photography rather than rushed sightseeing.

Meals: breakfast, lunch, dinner. Stay: premium hotel or boutique retreat stay.

Day 7

Boutique Brewery Visit and Craft Beer Tasting

A guided brewery visit introduces contemporary Chinese craft culture: ingredients, fermentation, production flow, and tasting language. Non-alcoholic alternatives can be arranged so the activity remains inclusive and relaxed.

Meals: breakfast, lunch, tasting/light dinner. Stay: premium hotel or boutique retreat stay.

Day 8

Gentle Movement and Cultural Deepening

Morning meditation and light movement help the group integrate the travel rhythm. The afternoon can be used for a deeper art session, tea, spa-style rest, or a light local visit depending on guest energy.

Meals: breakfast, lunch, dinner. Stay: premium hotel or boutique retreat stay.

Day 9

Integration, Closing Circle, and Farewell Dinner

The final full day is calm and ceremonial. Guests review handmade works, share reflections, enjoy personal time, and gather for a farewell dinner that closes the retreat without rushing the emotional transition.

Meals: breakfast, lunch, farewell dinner. Stay: premium hotel or boutique retreat stay.

Day 10-11

Departure Transfer and International Return

The team assists with check-out, transfer, rail or airport timing, luggage movement, and onward travel questions. For long-haul flights, arrival home may be the following calendar day.

Meals: breakfast on Day 10 where hotel timing allows. Day 11 is an international flight buffer.

Reference Inclusions and Booking Notes

Like the reference study-tour brochure, final pricing should be issued after dates, group size, hotel level, rooming, flight routes, and supplier availability are confirmed.

Usually Included

- Premium hotel or boutique retreat stay in Zhejiang and Shanghai, or same class
- Breakfast and specified lunches/dinners during the program
- Listed cultural workshops, basic materials, and reservation coordination
- Local private transfer or arranged ground transportation during confirmed activities
- Bilingual coordination, local host support, and guest communication before arrival
- Entry or activity fees specifically listed in the final itinerary

Usually Not Included

- International or domestic flights, airport taxes, and baggage fees
- Passport, visa, China entry documentation, and travel insurance unless stated
- Single-room supplement or room upgrades beyond the confirmed quote
- Personal expenses, shopping, laundry, minibar, and optional spa services
- Alcohol beyond the arranged tasting and any services not listed in writing
- Costs caused by airline changes, weather, personal itinerary changes, or force majeure

Quotation format recommended: program price per person, single supplement, payment schedule, cancellation terms, room category, meal plan, transport standard, and a clear list of included activity fees.

What to Confirm Before Booking

To personalize the experience responsibly, the team confirms practical details before accepting a booking. This keeps the retreat elegant, realistic, and comfortable.

Please Share

- Traveler age range and number of guests
- Preferred travel dates and length of stay
- Departure city and arrival preferences
- Room preference and budget range
- Dietary needs, allergies, mobility limits, and health notes
- China entry or visa status and insurance needs

We Will Confirm

- Final dates, availability, and quotation
- Accommodation level and room type
- Activity suppliers and seasonal feasibility
- Transport, walking intensity, and weather plan
- Payment schedule, cancellation terms, invoice needs, and insurance suggestions

Plan Your Journey

Email xletravels@gmail.com with your preferred dates, number of travelers, departure city, room preference, dietary or mobility notes, and the questions you would like the team to answer.